Meeting Closes

Elder J. T. Turpin, the Baptist Minister who held services for two weeks in a tent in this city, brought the meeting to a close Sunday night. These meetings were well attended and close attention given to the preaching which was of a sound nature. Bro. Turpin goes from here to Cow Creek, Estill county, where he will preach possibly two weeks.

Good Hog Sale

Robert Conlee, three miles east of Clay City, sold a car load of 100 hogs Saturday to Chas. T. Faulkner at 18½ straight. These hogs averaged 175 pounds so you can see that Mr. Faulkner paid Mr. Conlee quite a neat little sum for hogs which is, doubtless, the most money ever received by a Powell county farmer for a car of hogs—$3,193.75.

To Move to Quicksand

Louie Bradley, of Sardis, Miss. and who formerly worked in the Swann Day mills here, was in town Tuesday, and left Wednesday for Quicksand, where he has been tendered the position of general manager of the hardwood plant of Mobray and Robinson. He is going to look over the situation before taking charge.

Coal Deliveries Begun

T. J. Kirk received a car of coal this week and sold it to various persons in the city at 22 cents per bushel delivered. It is claimed that coal will advance considerably within the next few days, so fortunate are the ones that get their winter's supply early.

Calling For Bids

The Fiscal Court is advertising for bids on contract work on the last three miles of road in the western portion of the county. The intervening section between the road completed and where the road begins will be constructed by the County. It is the intention of the Court and the State to get this road completed to the Clark county line this fall and be ready to work on the road to Stanton this winter. It takes time and money to build roads, but if the oil production holds out long enough, and the Legislature does not repeal this tax law, and the same is added to the 20 cent tax collected as is now being done, we will have this trunk line through the county in but a few more years. In the mean time, our people should be patient until their road can be reached.

Injured by Kick of Mule

Paul Tipton was kicked Tuesday by a mule and had a leg badly lacerated. The attending physician, Dr. Martin, found it necessary to take five stitches to close up the wound. The mule was very gentle and not inclined to kick, so Mr. Tipton used little precaution. He had just fed the mule, taking its feed in a tin bucket, which probably scared the mule as he passed from the stall.

Drouth Broken

The three weeks drouth was broken when a heavy down pour of rain began falling Monday morning. It has rained each day since then, and now it seems too wet. Wheat in the shock, and most of it was cut, is beginning to damage as when it is not raining, it is cloudy most of the time.

Gets Finger Mashed

D. P. Metheny, an oil driller for E. J. Thornley, on Hell creek in Lee county, had a finger very badly mashed Tuesday morning. The finger was so badly injured that it will most likely have to be amputated later. He came to Clay City to have Dr. Martin dress the limb.

Faulkner Breaks Jail

Ova Faulkner, confined in the Stanton jail convicted of the murder of Roy Munn at the recent session of the Powell Circuit Court and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, broke jail at Stanton and made his escape. He is still at large.

'Squire Profit Here

'Squire Ed W. Profit was here from Slade Saturday. The 'Squire is very much interested in the road building in the county, and as might naturally be expected, is longing when the time comes for the work to begin in his portion of the county.

Returns to The Southland

Prof. Neal A. Ranson, formerly of Clay City, notifies us to change his paper from Hodgenville to Charlotte, S. C. Prof. Ranson says he is still interested in Clay City and Powell county, and cannot do without The Times.

Killed in Mississippi

While here this week Mr. Louie Bradley broke the news to The Times man that A. P. Steele, formerly of this city, was accidentally killed by an old colored man at Sardis, Miss., last October, while deer hunting in a thicket, the negro mistaking the shaking of the bushes to be done by a deer. Instead it was Steele, who had started in another direction leaving the negro stationed there with instructions to shoot the appearance of deer. The negro was exonerated of the killing, but the accident ran him crazy.

Steele will be remembered as a former station agent at Clay City, but later was connected with Swann-Day Lumber Co.

County Agent Busy

County Agent H. H. Harrison was here both Saturday and Tuesday in the interest of the sale of some thoroughbred Poland China shotes for Carter Reynold's boys. It pays to raise only the best live stock and that is the mission of Mr. Harrison, to help us raise them, and then to help us sell them.

Dies in Lexington.

Mrs. Rebecca Neal, aged 76 years, died at the residence of her son, Thos. B. Ballard, 352 Chestnut St., Lexington, Friday morning, June 13. She is survived by two sons, Thos. B. Ballard, Lexington and John Ballard, Winchester. Mrs. Neal was a resident of Powell county the greater part of her life, and made her home at Clay City until after the death of her husband about four years ago. Everyone knew "Granny Beckie," as they called her. She was a friend to all, and all were her friends. With the death of "Granny" the old folks of Powell are becoming scarcer.

"Granny" was buried at the Lexington cemetery Saturday morning at 11 a. m. Services were held at the residence.

Registrar Reports

Mr. Guy M. Crowe, Registrar for the Stanton precinct, has kindly sent in to The Times his report for May, 1919. He obligingly suggests that all the local registrars do likewise for each month. The Times would be very much pleased to receive and publish such reports as a monthly feature of the paper.

A HOME-MADE PAPER.

THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1919.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE,
ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce A. Howard Stamper, of Campion, Wolfe county, candidate for Representative in this, the Powell-Wolfe district, subject to the action of the Democratic party in primary election, August 2nd, 1919.

What of The Farm Hand.

We stopped the other day for a chat with a farm worker who was clearing out a brush pasture.

We stopped because he was really working, and looked like he had considerable sense as well as muscle, and, though no boss was in sight, he kept at a tough job without respite. He did deign to rest a minute while we inquired as to what wage he was getting. "A hundred dollars a month and board for ten hours a day," was his answer.

That is somewhat more than the average minister or bank clerk or school teacher receives.

The city labor union has forced its higher wage, shorter hour system on the country.

But what we want to know is who gets up at 4 and milks the cows, and who puts in 18 hours in the hay field, when it looks like rain, and who stays up until 3 a. m. when the lambs begin to come; and who, in general, greets the sunrise and puts in all the hours that must be put in on every farm, regardless of daylight "saving" city rule, or union labor pronouncements?

The farmer, in the spring and summer and early autumn, has to work from dawn till dark.

Since the hired man won't do it, and there is only one of the boss, we wonder just how the American farm is going to be run, and by whom.

Maybe they'll have to use three eight-hour shifts, and have three $100 a month hands where one $40 a month hired man served. If so, Mr. Ultimate consumer is going to get a jolt.—Danville Messenger.

The State Text Book Commission muddle continues at Frankfort. The action of the old board suits the Times since so many Kentucky made books were included. We hope to see the new commission adopt all the home-made school books possible. We are for a greater and better Kentucky, and we know of no better way to bring this about than for Kentucky to patronize Kentuckians.

The distiller and brewer will be succeeded July 1, by the lady cow, this day having been designated as "National Buttermilk Day," by the Department of Agriculture. This is done in celebration of the death of John Barleycorn, and a most fitting name for the day it is. There is nourishment in the buttermilk and destruction in the liquor. We welcome the change.

This week we are printing several kind letters received from our subscribers who manifest their appreciation of the Times. These are not all received for a single week, but probably enough to show how the Times is received by its subscribers. Similar letters have been coming to us since our first issue was mailed.

Sugar will soon get scarce and high, say the wholesalers and refiners. "Shortage" they say, but we are always given this excuse when blackberry season approaches.

Danville, Ky., June 23, 1919
Mr. J. E. Burgher,
Editor Times.

Dear Friend:

Have received several copies of The Times since you resumed publication of your most excellent paper, and take this opportunity to tell you how much I enjoy it. You are publishing what I consider an A1 county paper, one of the best features being the news written by the correspondents in different sections of the county, and the people of dear old Powell should appreciate and support it liberally. If they realized as I do what a power a good live paper is for the upbuilding of a community they would do everything possible to assure its continued success, and I do not believe there is a better county paper of its size in the State.

I was pleased to read the most excellent letter from C. J. Davis, of Portland, Ore., in your last issue, in which he mentions a very dear spot to me—the Vaughn's Mill community. Was sorry to read of the death of "Billy" McKinney and also of Mr. Tipton, of Hardwick's creek. You know it touches a tender chord to hear of the death of people associated with your childhood.

I am still with the Danville Messenger, which has recently been changed to a daily, and am foreman in the job printing and advertising departments and find it rather a strenuous life compared with the work on a semi-weekly paper. Wishing you abundant success will close, hoping to see letters from other former citizens of Powell in The Times from time to time.

I. G. Jackson.

Clay City, Ky

Dear John:

I am just in receipt of a copy of The Times and am sure glad to know that you are going to make us a good newspaper again. The first thing that struck me when I took the copy out of the slip and saw what it was I said "the cat came back" but it was not "de very nex da" but it was "when de cruel wahl was over," just as you promised us. May The Times flutter in the breeze from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Sir:

Enclosed find $1.00 for The Clay City Times for one year. My two boys, Tom and Edgar, and myself, are more than anxious to have The Times in our homes and as we live near each other the one paper will do for all. As soon as Mrs. Vaughn showed me her first paper after waiting so long, I hastened home to send for it so as to not miss any of them if I could.

Mrs. Nan Shimfessel.

Newport, Ky., June 18, 1919.

Mr. Burgher.

Dear Sir:

I certainly was glad to receive The Clay City Times again for it is a pleasure to read the news from your home county. And I will be glad when there is a writer for Stanton, my old home town. Please let me know how my subscription stands, as my father paid it before.

Wishing you success in the future years, I am,

Very truly,

Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. J. E. Burgher,

Dear Mr. Burgher:

I am pleased to tell you I am receiving The Times and think it is just fine. It is like getting a letter from home. I have some friends in your little town who I am going to visit in a few days, and while there will call on you with some long green to pay my subscription.

Yours for the good,

J. H. Woosley.

Covington, Ky., June 16, 1919.

Mr. Burgher.

Dear Sir: Please find enclosed postal order for one dollar for your paper. We are so glad to get it, because it gives lots of good news of our home folks. Trust you will continue to publish same.

Yours respectfully,

Mrs. Mattie Jackson.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Charley Pasley was tried and sent to the asylum at Lexington last week. Mr. Pasley is held in high esteem by all his neighbors and all sincerely hope he may get well.

William Atkinson, of Stanton, was a caller here Sunday. There seems to be some attraction for William. We notice he is here quite often and always comes on Sunday.

We notice in Sunday's Herald that Sherman Robbins has announced himself a candidate for Representative from this district. Mr. Robbins might make a good officer but he is on the wrong side, his name should be under the rooster to get our vote.

Mr. Editor, you will not have to set up the ice cream because of the 17-year locusts this year, for they were here in 1905, and the prophets have been mistaken. It was the candidates that were coming as a pest in Powell county this year, judging from what we saw during court at Stanton. And the friendliest men they were shaking hands with everybody. We trust the voters of Powell county will select the best men and vote accordingly. But beware of those good road candidates. We have lived on such promises for ten years and no roads yet.
